America's Masters—Volume 9: “Early Tejano Classics”

What's known today as Tejano Music is enjoying an unprecedented wave of popularity. The history of this music however did not begin with the career of the late Selena, but has long, deep and far reaching roots. This disc samples some of the most influential singers and musicians who helped create and shape Tejano Music during its formative years in the late 1940s up through the early 1960s. These examples of largely urban music should be heard in conjunction with our budget priced “sampler” entitled “15 Tex-Mex Conjunto Classics” (Arhoolie CD 104) that features selections by conjuntos which equally contributed to the present sound of Tejano Music. If you enjoy these artists, please check out their full albums in our catalog.
