Leo Paul

Leo Stephenson

"Music as written" is an increasingly rare item in this age of the "big beat" -- when numbers such as the "Tea for Two Cha-Cha" and the rock-and-roll version of "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" dominate the air-waves. All too often the sound of the new beat has obscured the traditional style of performance of many of our popular standards.

This album, utilizing the talents of a gifted vocalist and a remarkable saxophonist, is an effort to portray a cross-section of standard favorites in the style of "music as written" -- where the role of the performer is to recreate the mood of the composer and his time.

The voice heard in this album belongs to Leo Stephenson, a young man whose concert and night-club performances have taken him all over the United States and Canada, as well as Venezuela and Puerto Rico. Stephenson studied voice with Norman Kling of Chicago and is, in addition, a fine saxophonist.

Leo Paul, whose saxophone in this album helps to recapture the spirit of the compositions, is an outstanding musician who has been associated with some of the finest society orchestras in the East -- including Leo Reisman, Hal Saunders, Ernie Stewart and Eddie Ashman. Paul was a scholarship student on saxophone with George Grisez, and also studied with Merle Johnson and Frank Chase.

SILVER THREADS AMONG THE GOLD

words: E. E. Rexford
music: H. P. Danks

Darling I am growing old,
Silver threads among the gold,
Shines upon my brow today,
Life is fading fast away,
But, my darling, you will be, will be,
Always young and fair to me,
Yes! my darling, you will be,
Always young and fair to me.

IN THE GLOAMING

words and music: Annie F. Harrison

In the gloaming, Oh, my darling,
When the lights are dim and low.
And the quiet shadows falling
Softly come and softly go.
When the winds are sobbing faintly,
With a gentle unknown woe;
Will you think of me and love me,
As you did once long ago?

MIGHTY LIKE A ROSE

words: Frank L. Stanton
music: Ethelbert Nevin

Sweetest little fellow,
Everybody knows,
Don't know what to call him
But he's mighty like a rose!
Looking at his mommy
With eyes so shiny blue,
Makes you think that Heaven
Is coming close to you!

When he's there a-sleepin',
In his little place,
Think I see the angels
Looking through the lace,
When the dark is falling,
When the shadows creep,
Then they come on tip-toe
To kiss him in his sleep.

(Repeat first verse)
