For Our Children

Ella Jenkins' unique contributions to the teaching—and the enjoyment—of folk music and rhythmic activities for children are known throughout the United States. Her records and teaching methods are used in many preschool, elementary, and high school classrooms, as well as in such federally-funded educational programs as Project Head Start.

Ms. Jenkins has starred in her own TV program for children. She is also the author of several books. Her folk song albums, on the Folkways and Scholastic labels, provide ideal ways of teaching children the fun (and the fundamentals) of rhythm.
