Let's Go To The Rodeo

TO PARENTS: The Rodeo is a subject dear to the hearts of all children. Here is a record that brings the color and excitement of the Rodeo directly to the child. It appeals equally to children who have seen a Rodeo and to those who have only heard about it. The original songs by Tom Glazer capture the spirit of the exciting contests, and the background and narration duplicate the atmosphere of the Rodeo ring. The accurate information on this record offers the school-age child new material with which to broaden the scope of dramatic play.

LET'S GO TO THE RODEO

Let's go
To the Rodeo!
Oh, let's all go
To the Rodeo...
See them ride!

See the cowboys ride those buckin'
broncos;
See them ride!
See the cowboys rope those runnin'
calves;
See them ride!
See the cowboys wrestle those snortin'
steers;
See them ride!
Let's go
To the Rodeo!
Oh, let's all go to the Rodeo.
See them ride!

Let's go
To the Rodeo!
Oh, let's all go
To the Rodeo...
See them ride!
See the cowboys ride!
See them ride!

THE BAREBACK BRONCO

See the cowboy ride the bareback bronco,
See the bareback bronco kick and jump.
It's so hard to ride a bareback bronco,
'Cause bye and bye he'll throw you off—
ker-flump!

THE WILD BULL

Ride the wild bull, ride!
Ride the wild bull, ride!
Oh his horns are long,
And he's wild and strong.
Ride the wild bull, ride!
Be careful of your hide!
Be careful of your hide!
Oh, a cow is mild,
But a wild bull's wild!
Ride the wild bull, ride!

THE SADDLE BRONCO

With one hand holding and the other hand free,
I ride the bronco wild;
My feet in the stirrups kick to and fro,
And I ride in the Rodeo, boys,
Yes, I ride in the Rodeo.
Yes, one hand holds and the other hand
is free,
While the bronco bucks and kicks.
With a ti-yi-yipee and a yipee-yipee-yee,
How long can I sit, boys?
How long can I sit?
