Seagulls and Summer People
A Program of Maine Humor by
Captain Kendall Morse

1. Uncle Curt Stories - 13:27
2. Seagulls and Summer People - 10:07
3. About Preachers - 8:08
4. The Maine Character - 20:04
5. Old Jigger Jones - 2:08

CD-79

This CD was recorded “live” with an invited audience here in the barn Folk-Legacy uses as a studio because we found that Kendall is much more comfortable telling stories to people than to microphones. We have even left in the occasional “asides” to give you the true feeling of the evening and a further insight into the ready wit of this remarkable “folk” raconteur. You see, Kendall Morse is the genuine article: an authentic downeaster from Machias, Maine, who worked in a sardine packing plant as a youth and became the skipper of a fisheries inspection vessel in his maturity. He assumes no self-conscious stage mannerisms, affects no accent or costume to “dress up his act.” He just sits there, piling one outrageous story on top of another while his friends (or his audiences) collapse in laughter. If you plan to play this CD for your modest maiden aunt, preview it first! Some of Kendall’s stories are appropriately salty. Caveat Emptor, folks.

Copyright © 2002 All rights reserved.
FOLK-LEGACY RECORDS, INC. Box 1148 Sharon CT 06069
www.folklegacy.com folklegacy@snet.net 1-800-836-0901
Seagulls and Summer People
A Program of Maine Humor by
Captain Kendall Morse

1. Uncle Curt Stories - 13:27
2. Seagulls and Summer People - 10:07
3. About Preachers - 8:08
4. The Maine Character - 20:04
5. Old Jigger Jones - 2:08

This CD was recorded “live” with an invited audience here in the barn Folk-Legacy uses as a studio because we found that Kendall is much more comfortable telling stories to people than to microphones. We have even left in the occasional “asides” to give you the true feeling of the evening and a further insight into the ready wit of this remarkable “folk” raconteur. You see, Kendall Morse is the genuine article: an authentic downeaster from Machias, Maine, who worked in a sardine packing plant as a youth and became the skipper of a fisheries inspection vessel in his maturity. He assumes no self-conscious stage mannerisms, affects no contrived accent or costume to “dress up his act.” He just sits there, piling one outrageous story on top of another while his friends (or his audiences) collapse in laughter. Let me warn you, though, if you plan to play this CD for your modest maiden aunt, you’d better preview it first! Some of Kendall’s stories are appropriately salty. Caveat Emptor, folks.