We are pleased to reissue, on CD, Songs and Rhythms from Near and Far. Originally released in 1964, this collection of European, Mediterranean, Middle Eastern, and North American songs exemplifies Ella's lifetime commitment to children, near and far.

Ella Jenkins is a trailblazer in the best sense of the word. Long before people were using the terms "multicultural" and "diversity," Ella Jenkins was traveling the world in search of the universal links and local variations in music. She found connections in many lands with the "call and response" singing and rhythms she learned as an African American child in St. Louis and Chicago. Ella developed a groundbreaking approach to early childhood education rooted in sound and rhythm. Her magic and method open up worlds of understanding for children across boundaries of all sorts. Ella believes that each child from every racial, ethnic, religious, and cultural community — and those with special needs — has something very special to offer the world.

With her musical background and experience performing for young children, it was natural that Ella Jenkins would eventually meet the composer and educator Carl Orff (1895-1982). Orff developed a method for teaching music to young children through exposure to simple elements, and many of his compositions explored relationships between movement and music. Many of Ella's songs also combine movement and sound, and children learn elements of rhythm, melodic memory, and movement through singing them. Professor Richard Johnson, at the University of Toronto, introduced them to each other's work, and was instrumental in their meeting in 1963. That summer Ella visited Carl Orff in Austria, and participated in his summer school there. Letters they exchanged at that time demonstrate how impressed Carl Orff was with her approach to music, especially her Adventures in Rhythm.

Ella Jenkins' recordings are a treasure of sound and sensibility. We invite you to visit the list of her other Smithsonian Folkways recordings that appears in the back of this booklet and to look for future reissues and new recordings in the future.

Introduction

We are all travelers in some big or small way. Some of our traveling experiences are quite similar, some are exactly the same, and some of them are oceans and dreams apart.

The manner in which we travel is not nearly as important as the traveling itself, and what we learn from our travels and how we apply that learning to everyday living is most significant of all. Therefore, as we share SONGS AND RHYTHMS FROM NEAR AND FAR, let us keep before us the spiritual as well as the physical concept of traveling.

Being at peace or at home with oneself and traveling beyond this point to a deeper understanding of others is one example of journeying in a spiritual way.

Good and worthwhile thoughts and attitudes can help us to travel far in life, reaching glorious heights, whereas negative thinking stunts our growth, keeping us hidden in dark, obscure places.

In whatever way we travel, whether our paths lead us to a new friendship, a different language, a new way of thinking, other neighborhoods, cities, states, or countries, let us include in our luggage something of value, something that we may contribute when we reach our destination. —Ella Jenkins, 1964

Ella Jenkins and Her Work
Ella Jenkins has done her share of traveling since her birth in Saint Louis, Missouri. She grew up in Chicago, Illinois; she graduated from San Francisco State College in California and attained a B.A. degree in sociology.

Upon graduation, she returned to Chicago and worked for four years as Teen-Age Program Director for the YWCA. From there, she began her freelance work, devoting full time to singing and making music with Latin American percussion instruments: the conga drum, maracas, etc. Later, she began playing the baritone ukulele and tenor guitar, and conducted Rhythm Workshops throughout the United States, parts of Canada, and Europe.

From September 1962 to April 1963, Miss Jenkins toured the Midwest, including Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Missouri, Ohio, and Iowa, for the School Assembly Service. She performed for high school and grade school assemblies in rural, urban, and suburban communities, under a program titled “Adventures in Rhythm.”

During the latter part of April 1963, Miss Jenkins gave three performances in Montreal, Canada. They included a children’s concert, a formal adult concert, and a Rhythm Workshop for group leaders.

In June 1963, she sailed for Europe, visiting such countries as France, Italy, The Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland, Monaco, Belgium, Denmark, England, and Austria. Jenkins’ travels have deeply influenced her musical style and presentation. She sees the world being united through music, strengthening bridges across cultures, languages, age, and gender. We hope that this album encourages children to travel into their hearts and minds to discover the beauty in themselves, in the world, and in its people. Enjoy the journey.

1) The World Is Big, The World Is Small
(Words and music by Ella Jenkins/Ellbern Publishing Co., ASCAP)

VOCALS: Ella Jenkins (solo), Shirley Hersh, and Ted Johnson
GUITAR: Shirley Hersh
BANJO: Ted Johnson

O the world is big
And the world is small
So there’s lots of room
For the short and the tall.

O the world is far
And the world is wide
But there are many different ways
To see the other side.

You can travel on a boat
You can travel on a plane
You can travel in a dance
You can travel in a game
You can travel on a bus
You can travel on a train
You can travel in a song
You can travel in a name.
2) A Little Town in Switzerland
(Words and music by Ella Jenkins/Ellbern Publishing Co., ASCAP)

VOCALS: Ella Jenkins (solo),
Shirley Hersh, and Ted Johnson
GUITAR: Shirley Hersh,
Ted Johnson (plays melody)

There is a little town in Switzerland
And it has a pretty name.
There is a little town in Switzerland
And it has a pretty name.
DERENDINGEN, DERENDINGEN,
DERENDINGEN DERENDINGEN,
DERENDINGEN, DERENDINGEN*
Yes it has a pretty name.

*DERENDINGEN is two miles from one of the larger cities (Solothurn, Switzerland). BERN is the capital.

3) Canadian Friendship
(Words and music by Ella Jenkins/Ellbern Publishing Co., ASCAP)

VOCALS: Ella Jenkins (solo),
Shirley Hersh, and Ted Johnson
GUITAR: Shirley Hersh,
Ted Johnson (plays melody)
UKULELE: Ella Jenkins

Comment allez-vous?
(phonetics: KOM-ANH-TALAY-VOO)
How are you?
Très bien, merci beaucoup.
(phonetics: TRAY BEE-EH MAIRSEE BO-COO)
I'm fine too.
Très bien, merci beaucoup.
I'm fine too.

4) Land of Canada
(Words and music by Ella Jenkins/Ellbern Publishing Co., ASCAP)

VOCALS: Ella Jenkins
GUITAR: Ted Johnson
BASS: Cliff Stewart
UKULELE: Ella Jenkins

I live in the U.S.A.
But I'm going up to Canada.
I'm going for a trip
and not for to stay
Up to the land of Canada.

I always thought that Canada
Was many, many miles away
But it's only three meals
plus a cup of tea.
Next thing you know
you're up in Canada.

I'm leaving in the month of May
When I get my Friday's pay.
I'm traveling in style, the tourist way
Up to the land of Canada.

This song and “Canadian Friendship” were inspired by Ella’s two visits to Montreal, Canada, where both French and English are spoken. She hopes the Canadians do not mind her substituting “Canada” for “Canada,” as it is simply a light-hearted song.

FRENCH is spoken in many areas of the world — in Haiti, the United States, Switzerland, Africa, et al. It might be an interesting project for the children to locate the countries where French is the major language.
5) I'm Going to Sea Now
(WORDS AND MUSIC BY ELLA JENKINS/ELBERN PUBLISHING CO., ASCAP)

VOCALS: ELLA JENKINS (LEAD),
Shirley Hersh, and Ted Johnson
GUITAR: Shirley Hersh
UKULELE: ELLA JENKINS

I'm going to sea now
But I'll be back again.
I'm going to sea now
But I'll be back again.

I'll travel this world all over
To see where the road to life
will end.
I'll travel this world all over
To see where the road to life
will end.

Perhaps I'll find me a loved one
And she will be my bride.
Perhaps I'll find me a loved one
And she will be my bride.

*The sounds of the sea are the actual sounds of the Atlantic Ocean recorded on August 6, 1963, off the coast of Nantucket, from a ship returning from Europe. A small portable tape recorder
(Hitachi) was used.*

6) Dance Tunes
of Many Lands
(Traditional)

HARMONICA: Shimshon Zeevi
GUITAR: Ted Johnson
NOTES ON DANCES: Shimshon Zeevi

Quotations of definitions of Chassidim
and Druse: Webster's New World
Dictionary of the American Language.

The KRAKOWIYAK is a Polish circle and couple folk dance. The word comes from the town of Krakow (Cracow), which was the capital of old Poland,
prior to Warsaw.

The POLKA is a Slavic folk dance.
The first part of the word — Pol (pronounced POHL) — means "Half," which probably relates to the musical beat of the dance.

The SHERALEH is an Eastern
European Jewish CHASSIDIC ("Chassidim — are members of a sect of Jewish Mystics that originated in Poland in the 18th century") folk dance. In its formation and structure, this dance somewhat resembles the American square dance.

The DEBKA is an ancient DRUSE ("a member of a religious sect in Syria whose creed is basically Moslem with a mixture of Christian elements") WAR
DANCE. It is a line dance for men only.
Years ago the leader and the last one in the line held swords while dancing.
Nowadays, colorful handkerchiefs are used. This is a very fast dance, and at times it may last for hours.

From Ireland and Scotland — variations on the KERRY
DANCERS and
IRISH WASHER-WOMAN.
7) Yerakina
(Traditional)

This Greek dance was recorded in Salzburg at one of the sessions of the Carl Orff Music for Children workshops during July 1963. The same portable tape recorder referred to earlier was used.

8) Greek Shepherd Song
(Traditional)

VOCALS: Shirley Hersh
GUITARS: Shirley Hersh, Ted Johnson

9) Old Italian Tune

10) I Am a Funny Little Dutch Girl
(Traditional; arranged and adapted by Ella Jenkins/Ellbern Publishing Co., ASCAP)

VOCALS: Ella Jenkins
HAND-CLAPPING (opposite palms together):
Shirley Hersh, Ted Johnson

I am a funny little Dutch girl
As funny as funny can be
And all the boys around my house
Sing pretty little songs to me.
My fello's name is Jello
He comes from Alabama
With a big fat nose
And a pickle on his toes
And a ee yi ee yi o.

This is simply one version of a nonsensical song that children have no doubt been singing for a number of generations, and that they most likely created. It might prove interesting to translate this into Dutch.

The above song and the following songs bring our travels to the United States. The songs are traditional and have been arranged and adapted by Ella Jenkins, except "Buckeye Jim."

11) Way Down Yonder by the Apple Tree
(Traditional; arranged and adapted by Ella Jenkins/Ellbern Publishing Co., ASCAP)

BUCKET BASS: Cliff Stewart

Where O where
O where is Mary?
Where O where
O where is Mary?
Where O where
O where is Mary?
Way down yonder by the apple tree.

He's picking up apples, putting them in his pockets
Picking up apples, putting them in his pockets
Picking up apples, putting them in his pockets
Way down yonder by the apple tree.

She's picking up apples, putting them in a basket
Picking up apples, putting them in a basket
Picking up apples, putting them in a basket
Way down yonder by the apple tree.
13) Go Tell Aunt Rhody
(Traditional; arranged and adapted by Ella Jenkins/Ellern Publishing Co., ASCAP)

Go tell Aunt Rhody
Go tell Aunt Rhody
Go tell Aunt Rhody
That the old grey goose is dead.

The one she's been saving
The one she's been saving
The one she's been saving
To make her a feather bed.

She died in a mill pond
She died in a mill pond.
She died in a mill pond
A-standing on her head.

The goslings are crying
The goslings are crying
The goslings are crying
Because their mama's dead.

The gander is mourning
The gander is mourning
The gander is mourning
Because his wife is dead.

14) Did You Feed My Cow?
(Traditional; some new words and music by Ella Jenkins/Ellern Publishing Co., ASCAP)

Did you feed my cow?
Yes ma'am.
Could you tell me how?
Yes ma'am.
What did you feed her?
Corn and hay.
What did you feed her?
Corn and hay.

Did you milk her good?
Yes ma'am.
Did you milk her like you should?
Yes ma'am.
How did you milk her?
Squish, squish, squish.
How did you milk her?
Squish, squish, squish.

Did my cow get sick?
Yes ma'am.
Was she covered with tick?
Yes ma'am.
How did she die?

Did the buzzards come?
Yes ma'am.
Did the buzzards come?
Yes ma'am.
How did they come?
Flop flop flop.
How did they come?
Flop flop flop.
And that's the end
of the poor old cow!
15) Pick a Bale of Cotton
(Traditional; arranged and adapted by Ella Jenkins/Ellbern Publishing Co., ASCAP)

VOCALS: Ella Jenkins (lead), Shirley Hersh, and Ted Johnson
GUITAR: Shirley Hersh
BANJO: Ted Johnson
BASS: Cliff Stewart

O Lawdy, pick a bale of cotton
O Lawdy, Pick a bale a day
O Lawdy, pick a bale of cotton
O Lawdy, Pick a bale a day.

Me and my friend
    can pick a bale of cotton
Me and my friend
    can pick a bale a day
Me and my friend
    can pick a bale of cotton
Me and my friend
    can pick a bale a day.

I'm going to Louisiana
to pick a bale of cotton

Going to Louisiana
to pick a bale a day
Going to Louisiana
to pick a bale of cotton
Going to Louisiana
to pick a bale a day.

Picka picka picka picka
    picka bale of cotton
Picka picka picka picka
    picka bale a day
Picka picka picka picka
    picka bale of cotton
Picka picka picka picka
    picka bale a day.

16) Let My People Go
(Gown Down Moses)
(Traditional; arranged and adapted by Ella Jenkins/Ellbern Publishing Co., ASCAP)

HARMONICA: Ella Jenkins

Program suggestion (for dance and art students): Listen to the song twice — then, beginning with the third time, try to interpret the mood of the song in the movement, color, rhythm, etc.

17) Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho
(Traditional; arranged and adapted by Ella Jenkins/Ellbern Publishing Co., ASCAP)

Joshua fit the battle of Jericho,
Jericho, Jericho
Joshua fit the battle of Jericho,
And the walls came tumbling down.

You may talk about your man of Gideon
You may talk about your man of Saul
But there's none like good old Joshua
At the battle of Jericho.

18) The World Is Big, The World Is Small
(Words and music by Ella Jenkins/Ellbern Publishing Co., ASCAP)

O the world is far
And the world is wide
But there are many different ways
To see the other side.

Concluding Comments:
If your concepts of traveling have been enriched by listening to our album — which is indeed your album — we are pleased and feel a real sense of accomplishment.

We realize that one or two vocal, instrumental, and technical mistakes have been made, yet we sincerely feel that they have not taken away our message and purpose — that of helping you travel in a meaningful way, plus stimulating your desire to travel, both physically and spiritually.

With utmost sincerity from all of us,
Ella Jenkins
CREDITS TO COLLABORATORS

SHIRLEY HERSH resides in Skokie, Illinois, and is the mother of three children, one of whom is in high school. In addition to teaching the guitar at the Old Town School of Folk Music in Chicago and performing on programs, she finds time to enroll in college courses — one of her subjects is French. Though Shirley sings beautifully, knows a variety of songs, and plays her instrument — the guitar — well, she is constantly seeking new avenues to improve herself. Her latest endeavor is studying the classical guitar. Shirley shared Ella’s last album, Rhythms of Childhood — singing and playing the guitar.

TED JOHNSON also teaches the guitar at the Old Town School of Folk Music and does a great amount of performing. Ted and Shirley often team up for concert work. Ted is equally skilled on the five-string banjo. During 1963 he played background music, using his banjo, for a documentary film shown on commercial television.

Last year Ted received his Master’s degree in English from Northwestern University, and while studying for the degree he worked as Teaching Assistant in his department. He is presently working towards his doctorate in English.

SHIMSHON ZEEVI is a social group worker in River Forest, Illinois, and was born in Israel. He plays the harmonica, chahal (Israeli flute), and the guitar. He has worked in Israel, Africa, Europe, and Canada.

CLIFF STEWART is a Presbyterian minister who enjoys folk music as a hobby. Cliff is an instructor of the guitar as well as other fretted instruments. Two or three years ago Cliff created what he calls the BUCKET BASS, and it is quite popular with folk music enthusiasts. He plays his bass on several of the numbers in this album. Listen for its deep tone.

PEGGY LIPSHUTZ is a Chicago artist whose creative activities range from cartooning to oil painting. She especially enjoys working with folk singers by making large chalk drawings to bring out meanings and moods of the songs as they are sung. She has done this on television and in settings from settlement houses to concert halls. She also is a mother of three.

DISCOGRAPHY

For over thirty years Ella Jenkins has charmed children, parents, and teachers with her songs, stories, and rhythms. Her songs are shaped to stimulate children’s musical, motor, and intellectual skills, and they are from many lands in many languages. Ella’s songs and rhythms make learning about different people’s traditions accessible and fun.

Ella has recorded many albums for Smithsonian Folkways Recordings. They are listed below. You can ask for these recordings at your local record shop, order them by telephone by calling 1-800-410-9815, by faxing (301) 443-1819, or by mail through Smithsonian Folkways Recordings at 414 Hungerford Drive, Ste. 444, Rockville, MD 20850. ABOUT SMITHSONIAN FOLKWAYS

Folkways Records was founded by Moses Asch and Marian Distler in 1948 to document music, spoken word, instruction, and sounds from around the world. In the ensuing decades, New York City-based Folkways became one of the largest independent record labels in the world, reaching a total of nearly 2,200 albums that were always kept in print.

The Smithsonian Institution acquired Folkways from the Moses Asch estate in 1987 to ensure that the sounds and genius of the artists would be preserved for future generations. All Folkways recordings are available on high-quality audio cassettes, each packed in a special box along with the original LP liner notes.

Smithsonian Folkways Recordings was formed to continue the Folkways tradition of releasing significant recordings with high-quality documentation. It produces new titles, reissues of historic recordings from Folkways and other record labels, and in collaboration with other companies also produces instructional videotapes and recordings to accompany published books and other educational projects.

The Smithsonian Folkways, Folkways, Cook, Paredon, and Dyer-Bennet record labels are administered by the Smithsonian Institution’s Center for Folklife Programs & Cultural Studies. They are one of the means through which the Center supports the work of traditional artists and expresses its commitment to cultural diversity, education, and increased understanding.

You can find Smithsonian Folkways Recordings at your local record store. Smithsonian Folkways, Folkways, Cook, Paredon, and Dyer-Bennet recordings are all available through:

Traveling is the theme of this delightful recording. Through music, Ella Jenkins and her friends take us with them on a journey to many lands. They treat us to songs and dances, and a variety of musical sounds and textures. Listen and learn as the journey begins.

Especially recommended for children ages 6–11.
