It’s been nearly six years since Saddle Songs and now here we are in the twenty-first century and all the more reason for Saddle Songs II: The Last of the Troubadours. The title was taken from an O. Henry story about a cowboy troubadour by the name of Sam Galloway who reminded us that, although Tommy Tucker may have sung for his supper, a true troubadour would have his supper and then sing for art’s sake.

So here you have it, thirty-two more cowboy songs both old and new... The words and music to these songs as well the songs in the original Saddle Songs are contained in the new improved, enlarged, up-graded and up-dated song book, Saddle Songs: A Cowboy Songbag... Seventy-two songs with stories, song lyrics, chord names, musical notation and tablature. So, my friends and aspiring cowboy singers and pickers there is no excuse for not singing and playing these songs yourself ‘cause who knows... maybe you’ll come up with a few ideas of your own.

-Don Edwards

All selections performed by Don Edwards at Sevenshous Ranch, Parker County, Texas in March and April Twenty-Ought-Three. Recorded on a Tascam DA-P1 DAT recorder using an RCA 74 Jr. ribbon microphone except Disc I tracks 6 and 13 and Disc II tracks 7 and 12 which were recorded with special guests Norman and Nancy Blake at the Western Jubilee Warehouse in Colorado Springs, CO by Butch Hause. Tape to disc transfer and editing by Craig Swany at Craig’s Music, Weatherford, Texas. and Butch Hause, Ranger Station, Henderson CO. Mastered at Airshow Mastering, Inc. Boulder, Colorado by David Glasser.
All Photos by Donald Kallas. CD design by Adwerks.

A special thanks to my friends Norman and Nancy Blake for generously sharing their time and talent. To three of my cowboy pals: Don Hedgpeth, Joel Nelson and Paul Zarzisky for writing what I consider to be three really great songs in that true old-time cowboy tradition.
"Think of Don Edwards as a singing scholar of the old West. We are a little lax about these family heirlooms of ours and ought to be grateful to have such a great caretaker of them." James Earl Jones, An American Moment
